

Washington, D. C.

NAZI MASS EXECUTIONS

Underground observers coming out of Germany have reported that the Nazis already have begun the systematic elimination of the vast army of slave labor imported from Russia, France, Czechoslovakia and various occupied countries.

Details of the story are so ghastly that they hardly can be believed. Yet the accuracy of the observers has stood up in the past; also the wholesale slaughter methods of the Germans at Lublin is already a matter of official record.

It is estimated that the imported slave labor inside Germany totals about 10,000,000. Either because Hitler fears their sabotage and rebellion, or else because they are a drain on Germany's food resources, machinery has been devised to kill them off. The number killed so far is estimated at around 1,500,000, though this is a very rough estimate. Absolutely definite, however, is the fact that mass execution depots, such as that at Lublin, already are set up in various parts of Germany. These have been witnessed.

Reason for the cold-blooded system of mass executions is explained as follows by underground observers who have come out of Germany: Originally, storm troopers were given a list of 15 to 20 persons and told to shoot them with their revolvers in the night. Sometimes this included whole families with children. So not even the S. S. men could take it. They suffered nervous collapses, had to be sent to sanatoriums.

As a result, the mass execution system was worked out at Lublin, and now at other places. It takes only a few men to handle the lethal chambers, and enough personnel can be found to perform the gruesome work without becoming insane.

LOST BATTALIONS

Of all soldiers in the U. S. army, the most distressed over the war department's demobilization plan are the men over 35 years of age. They get no extra retirement points because of age. In fact, some of them, because of bad health and inability to get overseas, may be among the last to leave the army following V day.

Stranded in camps throughout the U. S. A., they have become the "Army's Lost Battalions." Many were snapped up by selective service in the early days of the war despite deafness, blindness in one eye and shortage of fingers—all at a time when the army was in a rush to get almost anyone. Now many of these men are doing semi-menial tasks.

At Fort Meyer, Va., one group is daily assigned to grave digging at the National Cemetery. Others count socks and shirts for the quartermaster corps, are now becoming psychological problems for the army. Some found that infirmities when they entered have become aggravated since, but will never be recognized as having received disabilities in service.

The war department points out that "theoretically" men over 38 had an opportunity to leave the army more than a year ago, if they had job opportunities in war industries. But the war department also admits that it had to stop somewhere, and that since the WAC recruiting program failed, it is now necessary to retain the 35-year-olds to make up for the scarcity of WACs.

ARKANSAS FARMER IN LONDON

What most impressed alert young Congressman Brooks Hays of Arkansas during his London trip was the farm miracle the British have performed during the war. Hays was Arkansas head of the Farm Security administration before coming to congress, so traveled widely in rural England, was amazed by the economy of land use.

"Here's an island about one-third as large as the state of Texas," Hays said, "but with 50,000,000 people. And it is growing two-thirds of all its food."

"The British won't keep on growing so much food after the war," Hays says, "but what they're doing with their land right now is miraculous. And they like it, even though most of them never worked in the fields before. I didn't talk to a single one who wasn't tickled that we had sent them less food and plenty of fertilizer and farm machinery. They're really proud of what they were able to do and glad they haven't had to eat nothing but hand-outs from this country."

CARTEL MYSTERY STORY

Last month, FDR wrote a letter to Secretary of State Hull, told him: "Keep your eyes on this whole subject of international cartels."

Now Wendell Berge, assistant attorney general in charge of trust-busting, has written quite a detective story of his own. It is a book entitled: "Cartels Challenge to a Free World." If you want to understand some of the major traps into which the coming peace may find itself ensnared, it's worth reading.

Clubmen Hear Henry Hill on "Propositions"

Henry Hill, attorney of San Jose discussed the propositions on the November 7 ballot before the Kiwanis club Tuesday.

While his talk was necessarily objective, he clarified some of the intricate wordings of the amendments and pointed out some of the arguments pro and con about them.

Hill stated that the initiative petitions especially, Nos. 9-11-12, needed to be more thoughtfully considered by the voters. The other items mentioned while needing consideration, have already been discussed, amended and so forth, by the legislature before being placed on the ballot.

The speaker was presented by Martin S. Waish.

Visitors were Rev. Joyce Farr of Laurel church and Rev. Fillmore Gay of St. Stephens church, both in Oakland, and Alvin Bonds, member of the Student Council of Campbell high school.

Next week the club will have an interclub meeting in Los Gatos on Thursday noon.

Bucs Trim Eagles 25-0 Friday Night

Campbell Bucs did it again, this time defeating Mt. View Eagles 25-0 on the latter's flood-lighted field on Friday night and they now appear definitely as the probable champions of the SCVAL.

Their first touchdown called back on a penalty in the first quarter, Captain Roy Zimmer and Bob Hall scored in the second period.

The other two scores are credited to Darrell O'steen and Bill Wilson.

Wilson and Garcia, ends, and Ragus, Hall and Zimmerman were specially outstanding on the Campbell team.

The Bucs are now the only unbeaten team in the league, but have one tie game with Washington high school at Centerville against their otherwise perfect record.

Mrs. Geo. Burrow Hostess to Circle

Pundita Circle met at the home of Mrs. George Burrow, Wednesday, Oct. 25. The co-hostesses were Mrs. R. Y. Maxson and Mrs. L. J. Carboni.

The president, Mrs. Stanley Smith, presided over the business meeting after which Mrs. Carboni presented Mrs. R. W. Morgan. Mrs. Morgan gave an interesting and enlightening talk on the Big Sister movement, which the club heartily endorsed.

The hostesses served dainty refreshments, after which the meeting adjourned until Nov. 30, to meet with Mrs. Carboni.

Mrs. Alice O. Barton of Campbell received the sad news in a war department announcement that her son Pfc William Y. Barton had been killed in action.

Navy Man Weds Chicago Girl At Ceremony Here

A prettily appointed wedding in which Miss Norma Palmquist of Chicago and Lowell Leaman Ford, USN, exchanged vows was celebrated at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Esther Short on Alice avenue. The Rev. Donald H. Baldwin performed the ceremony.

Miss Maurine Thompson sang Grieg's "Ich Liebe Dich" and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. She was accompanied by Mrs. Jean Long, and the wedding music was played by Miss Eleanor Short. All of the musicians are from San Jose.

The bride had chosen a gown of aqua blue, with black accessories, and carried a white prayer book, with a marker of orchids and bouvardia.

The bride's attendant was a cousin, Miss Crystal Wall of Los Angeles, and Dr. Chas. A. Short, son of Mrs. Esther Short, served as best man.

Mrs. Lillian Roberts of Santa Clara, who had arranged the lovely floral decorations, also assisted at the reception which followed the 5 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palmquist of Chicago, and the groom, whose home town is Tulsa, Okla., is stationed at San Bruno, and the couple will live in the bay area.

Their honeymoon was spent in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Clarence T. McCorkle, R1/c, who enlisted in the Navy before the war started, is home on furlough. He was stationed at Pearl Harbor when the Japs bombed it, and has seen action at Truk and in the Marshall Islands. This is his first visit home in over three years. Two of his brothers are in the service, and his younger brother, Marvin, is a Senior at the Campbell High school. When his furlough is over he will go to Bremerton, Washington, for reassignment.

She was a member of Kate B. Sherwood Tent No. 1, Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Bluebirds Organize

A Bluebird tea was held at the Camp Fire room on Wednesday, October 25. Girls from Miss Hassler's and Miss Rothwell's room were invited to bring their mothers to help organize a Bluebird club.

Mrs. Gladys Von Felt from the County Camp Fire Girls office explained the Bluebird program. Mrs. Leslie Hinz volunteered to act as leader for the club while Mrs. D. W. Ribble and Mrs. J. C. McBain will be her assistants.

The following mothers will make up the sponsoring committee: Mrs. J. E. Murdock, Mrs. H. E. Hansen, Mrs. Ozier and Mrs. Silva.

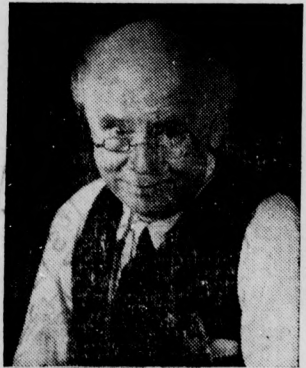

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Ribble, Mrs. Murdock, Mrs. McBain and Mrs. Hinz.

On Tuesday, October 31st, their first meeting day, Mrs. Ribble and Mrs. Hansen gave the girls a Hallowe'en party. Appropriate games and refreshments were enjoyed by everyone.

"A Doll's House" To Play In San Jose Nov. 13th

"A Doll's House," the famous Ibsen drama, which plays in San Jose on Monday evening, Nov. 13, marks the first serious dramatic offering since the Ethel Barrymore production. With Francis Lederer, stage and screen star as Torvald, and Dale Melbourne as Nora, the role which Zerkow immortalized, "A Doll's House" is of outstanding merit. Completing an all-star cast are Philip Merivale, Jane Darwell, Lyle Talbot and Keven McClure.

"3 Is A Family" follows in the San Jose auditorium on Sunday evening, Nov. 19. Una Merkel and the complete original cast, including Robert Burton and William Wadsworth, direct from 65 weeks on Broadway, make the best farce comedy to be seen on the coast during the last two years.

William Wadsworth, who plays the obstetrician, bringing down the house and all but stealing the show, began his stage career with Otis Skinner, often appearing in musical comedy with Fred Astaire.

The General Platoff Don Cossack Russian Male chorus and Dancers appear as the second event of the San Jose Concert Series on Friday evening, Nov. 17. Lusty, stirring singing, whirling dances and knife throwing draw turbulent applause whenever the Cossacks appear.

Tickets are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose auditorium.

erts, Mrs. Charlotte Bronson, Mrs. Hinz and Mrs. Ribble.

5th Graders

The 5th grade Camp Fire group are now beginning their first step in Camp Fire. They were Blue Birds last year under the guardianship of Barbara Hartman.

The officers for the first semester are president, Janet Abilgaard, v-president, Donna Fossum, and secretary, Doreean Frank.

Members are Janet Abilgaard, Madelin Dubvich, Donna Fossum, Doreean Frank, Selma Knowles, Wilma Klassen, Gloria Lee, Janet Marovich, Ella Joan Mathews, Edith Olson, Ethel Ann Oeser, Bernice Robertson, Mardel Sanders, and Betty Wims.

The first event the girls planned was an outdoor barbecue dinner, held at the home of Janet Abilgaard. This dinner was to help them achieve their first step in Camp Fire work, which is the Trail Seekers Rank.

Some of the coming events are: a trip through the Winchester Hatchery, making gifts for Christmas, and a Christmas party.

The girls are all working hard so that they will soon be able to have a council fire at which they will receive their awards.

This group is sponsored by a mothers group including Mrs. Paul Frank, chairman, Mrs. David Sanders, Mrs. William Abilgaard, and Mrs. Paul Oeser. The girls' adviser is Mrs. Charlotte Bronson.

Mr. Candidate . . . Are You deliberately trying to DECEIVE THE VOTERS?

The American people believe in fair play in politics. They bitterly resent misstatements, half truths and insinuating generalities. We believe that you, Mr. Candidate—in your eagerness to secure a seat in Congress—have been guilty of these practices. So that the people may know the whole truth, we have reprinted some of the statements you have made, together with the correct answers.

You Have Made These Statements

Regarding Congressman John Z. Anderson

1. You Have Said That Congressman Anderson Did Not Support the President.

This is false, Mr. Candidate. Congressman Jack Anderson voted with the President in approving every expenditure necessary for the prosecution of the war. He voted in favor of the soldiers' ballot and the G.I. Bill of Rights. He voted for the extension of Lend-Lease and reciprocal trade agreements. He voted for the fortification of Guam. He voted for the Selective Service and Training act and for the extension of this act when it passed the House by a vote of 203 to 202. It was only on expenditures that were wasteful and non-essential to the war effort that Congressman Anderson differed with the President. Did you mean to say that Congressman Anderson was not a rubber stamp? If so, you're right!

2. You Have Said That Congressman Anderson Opposed Lend-Lease.

That's a half truth, Mr. Candidate. Congressman Anderson did vote against the original Lend Lease. But did you mention that the Congressman had just returned from an extended tour of the Pacific in which he saw how totally inadequate our defenses were in case of Japanese attack. He felt that we should not lend, lease or give away any of our own vital war materials until our own shores were protected. Pearl Harbor, Bataan and Corregidor proved how right he was. However, he has supported every appropriation under Lend Lease. Wouldn't you or any other American have done the same?

3. You Have Called Congressman Anderson a Reactionary.

It's always easy to call names, Mr. Candidate, but the facts don't back you up. Is it reactionary to support 14 out of 18 measures in favor of labor? Is it reactionary to extend social security to groups not now covered? Is it reactionary to support the war effort 100%? Is it reactionary to support every measure of benefit to Veterans? Is it reactionary to plant Guayule Rubber in California? Is it reactionary to be a capable, trusted worker of the House Naval Affairs committee? Possibly you'd better look up the word Reactionary in the dictionary.

4. You Have Criticized Congressman Anderson's Farm Policies.

Get this straight, Mr. Candidate. Congressman Anderson voted against ploughing crops under—and he'd do the same today. He voted against consumer subsidies because it is foolhardy to spend approximately $18 administering a plan designed to save about $6. But in the things that count, Jack Anderson has been agriculture's best friend. He has always voted for a fair price for the farmers. He was largely instrumental in bringing the Mexican Nationals as emergency farm laborers. He has continuously fought for proper recognition for California's farm crops. That's real service to agriculture.

You Have Made These Statements in Favor of Your Own Candidacy

1. You Have Stressed Your Long Legislative Experience.

Is lobbying for pressure groups your idea of legislative experience, Mr. Candidate? Have you ever served in an elected legislative capacity—either in this State or in Washington? Your record shows that you have not. Surely, in these critical times, when experience is so vitally needed, you would not expect the voters of this district to send you to Washington so that you could get your first taste of legislative experience—at their expense.

2. You Have Called Yourself a Liberal Independent.

Perhaps you are liberal, Mr. Candidate. The records are not very clear on that score. But they definitely indicate that you are NOT independent. Is it mere coincidence that your name is a "must" in publications of the Political Action Committee? Was it chance that prompted your arrival in this district a few short weeks before the primary—too late, even, to vote for yourself? You are campaigning on a "support the President" ticket, Mr. Candidate—but are you willing to come out and tell who your real backers are?

3. You Have Promised Intelligent Representation For This District.

Technically, your residence may be Santa Clara County, but actually your homes have been in Washington, D. C., and Los Angeles, California. To represent a district a man must know that district. How can you possibly know the problems of these four counties after a few months—all of which time has been spent in campaigning? There is no rhyme or reason to your request that an outsider should represent this district in Congress.

4. You Have Pledged Yourself to the Interests of the Small Farmer and the Small Business Man.

You are being inconsistent in your promises, Mr. Candidate. One of the biggest businesses in the country today is the Political Action Committee of the C.I.O. Are the interests of the small business man and the small farmer the same as those of the Political Action Committee? Isn't it a trifle difficult to serve two masters whose interests are different?

Let's be Americans and vote on the basis of TRUTH!

Hedda Hopper:

HOLLYWOOD

GREGORY PECK is the hottest thing in town. Some say he is a second Gary Cooper. Actually he's the first Gregory Peck. Critics went all out about him in "Days of Glory"—but not the picture. He co-stars with Ingrid Bergman in "Spellbound," which Alfred Hitchcock directed. He's the only male star except Gary Cooper whom Ingrid Bergman has ever been able to look up to. Peck is 6 feet 2. This lanky young man has not been built up by desperate Hollywood studios scurrying to alleviate the acute male shortage. Greg was a pre-medical student at the University of California when he took part in a school production of "Anna Christie" and decided to give up medicine and become an actor. He got his first real break in the Katharine Cornell play "The Doctor's Dilemma." That decided him to become an actor. But before that he was a member of the Barter theater in Abingdon, Va. He was a stroke on the Bear crew that rowed at Poughkeepsie in 1938.

Lowly Beginning
Peck's first professional experience in showmanship was as a barker on the Midway at the New York's World's fair. In a contest he won a two-year scholarship to the New York Neighborhood Playhouse. Between semesters he won the Barter theater award. Guthrie McClintic saw him in a Barter theater play and engaged him for the tour with "The Doctor's Dilemma." Made his Broadway debut in "The Morning Star." Played juvenile lead opposite Jane Cowl in "Punch and Julia." Also played male lead opposite Martha Scott in "The Willow and I" and opposite Geraldine Fitzgerald in "Sons and Soldiers." Received no less than a dozen motion picture offers before he accepted the RKO-Selznick contract.

State Chamber of Commerce Raps No. 12

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10 (UP)—A statement reaffirming opposition of the California State Chamber of Commerce to the "right to work" amendment, No. 12 on the November 7 ballot this year, was released today over the signature of Harrison S. Robinson of Oakland, president.

He pointed out the State-wide business group announced its opposition at Los Angeles meetings on two previous occasions before the amendment qualified for the ballot. One was April 14, the other June 23, and the reaffirmation was given by the board of directors at Sacramento last Friday, Robinson said.

Robinson added: "In view of public statements made by others in which the position of the chamber has been misinterpreted, the chamber desires to be on record that it is opposed to compulsory union membership, but recognizes the right of employees to contract voluntarily as they see fit."

"While in disagreement as to wisdom of the measure (No. 12), we do not question the good faith of the proponents."

"Our position is that in the interest of national unity, the union movement of the war years should be maintained."
